Foreword

For UNICEF, 2020 was a year unlike any other – a year in which an outbreak escalated into a pandemic reaching all corners of the world, propelling the organization to the front lines of an emergency response of historic magnitude. We have collectively witnessed the speed at which a virus can change the world. COVID-19 has cost lives and battered health systems. It has disrupted markets and devastated economies. It has damaged livelihoods and upended childhoods. The pandemic also brought with it a series of hugely complex supply and logistics challenges. The UNICEF Supply Function was tested like never before, yet its commitment, resilience and drive were never more evident.

Extraordinary magnitude

In 2020 the value of the goods and services that UNICEF procured on behalf of countries rose to its highest in the organization’s history: $4.468 billion. Driven in part by the exponential demand for COVID-19 related supply items, this figure represented a nearly 17 per cent increase compared to 2019, and a 27 per cent increase since 2016.

But numbers alone cannot do justice to the ingenuity and perseverance of the teams behind these efforts, even in the most pressing circumstances. Staff who not only maintained regular operations but devised creative and flexible solutions as never before to address the steep and unprecedented challenges related to COVID-19.

Extraordinary ingenuity

As the COVID-19 pandemic evolved, so did the challenges. Each day brought new complexities, ranging from soaring demand and prices for supplies to border closures, export bans and disrupted global freight capacity. Month after month, our teams addressed these emerging challenges with innovative strategies and solutions.

Among the many key highlights, we:

- ▶ Led a collaborative joint tender on behalf of 13 agencies, pooling technical and commercial expertise to establish long-term arrangements (LTAs) for quality personal protective equipment (PPE)
- ▶ Convened a landmark logistics industry consultation to align stakeholders around a logistics strategy for the COVID-19 response
- ▶ Devised solutions to maintain deliveries of vaccines for routine immunization, such as multi-stop charter flights using a single aircraft to deliver vaccines to hard-to-reach countries
- ▶ Championed local production of quality PPE in South Asia to expand options for local sourcing
- ▶ Scaled up an oxygen therapy project to deliver oxygen equipment for COVID-19 patients around the world
- ▶ Became the first United Nations agency to distribute COVID-19 tests at scale, drawing on our role as a global leader in the procurement of disease diagnostics
- ▶ Leveraged decades of experience in vaccine procurement and logistics to assume the role of lead Procurement Agency for the COVAX Facility
- ▶ Established a landmark charter, together with the World Economic Forum, signed by CEOs of 18 airline and logistics companies pledging support to UNICEF and the COVAX Facility

Extraordinary collaboration

The COVID-19 response has truly been an ‘all-hands-on-deck’ effort across the entire organization and across the many partners and private sector stakeholders who have come together to support UNICEF in taking forward the largest supply and logistics response in history.

As we face the continued threat of variants, we must ensure all countries have equitable access to supplies to fight the pandemic regardless of their ability to pay.

So much work remains as the world faces the unfolding challenges of the pandemic. But the solution is among us. We must navigate forward collectively and in solidarity – for solutions for both the short and longer term – and to build back better in this changing landscape and to make a post-pandemic world a reality for all.

Services

UNICEF procured $1.238 billion worth of services in 2020. The six largest categories account for 71 per cent of the total value of contracting for services.

$218.8 million
FINANCE AND INSURANCE SERVICES

This includes the management of the procurement of supplies directly by beneficiaries via cash transfers to them – one of the procurement modalities used by UNICEF depending on the context.

$175.2 million
CONSTRUCTION SERVICES

Designing, planning, engineering, monitoring and other services supporting construction works. Key programme areas supported include water and sanitation (e.g. water supply, sewage systems and latrines) and education (e.g. schools, classroom rehabilitation and children’s facilities).

$163.5 million
LOCAL TECHNICAL WORKFORCE FOR PROGRAMME EXECUTION

This includes human resources working in-country to share expertise within partner governments, to work in social mobilization campaigns and as temporary labour for programmes.

$131.8 million
INTERNATIONAL FREIGHT SERVICES

Globally, UNICEF managed a total freight volume of 62,468 cubic metres of freight by air and 16,568 twenty-foot equivalent units by sea and/or truck.

$99.6 million
IN-COUNTRY LOGISTICS AND WAREHOUSING SERVICES

Support to programmes includes road cargo transport, storage, local aircraft charters and customs brokerage and clearance services as well as warehousing services.

$92.5 million
RESEARCH, SURVEYS, MONITORING AND EVALUATION SERVICES

Programmatic research and surveys, market and supply chain analysis and research, monitoring and evaluation of programme implementation.

Savings overview 2020

The UNICEF Supply function achieved a total of $176.6 million worth of savings for UNICEF donors and partners in 2020. That is $106.6 million or 152 per cent over the target for the year.

UNICEF uses strategic procurement, price and information transparency, special contracting terms and multi-year arrangements, along with partner collaborations (e.g. joint forecasting, coordinated procurement, etc.), to provide longer-term visibility on levels of demand.

This enables suppliers to plan and scale up production, increasing the availability of affordable supplies for every child. In three years, UNICEF exceeded its projected $670 million in price savings for strategic supplies over the period of 2018–2021 by $291.1 million, achieving savings of $176.6 million in 2020 alone.

To ensure sustained availability and accessibility of strategic supplies for children, UNICEF focuses on a holistic procurement impact, considering price savings and, increasingly, other value elements such as social and environmental impact.

EXTRAORDINARY OPERATION AT SCALE

COVID-19: Mobilizing supply operations at scale

In spite of extremely complex supply and logistics challenges caused by the COVID-19 pandemic, UNICEF shipped half a billion items of personal protective equipment (PPE) in support of 138 countries in 2020 alone.

In the span of a few weeks, in late 2019 and early 2020, COVID-19 escalated from a localized outbreak in China into a global pandemic affecting nearly the entire world. As the outbreak worsened, demand for supplies to combat the virus sharply increased, leading to market constraints, pricing volatility, export bans and logistics barriers.

To navigate these extremely complex supply and logistics challenges on a global scale, UNICEF mobilized its supply operations to support countries in their efforts to fight the pandemic. With the situation evolving rapidly, flexibility and adaptability were key components of the UNICEF response.

Rapid response at the onset of the outbreak

Wuhan Municipal Health Commission reported a cluster of cases of pneumonia in Wuhan, China, on 31 December 2019. It was later identified as a novel coronavirus.

As the outbreak unfolded in China, it became clear that supplies were a central component of the response – especially PPE items to safeguard the health of front line workers. To support the China response, UNICEF shipped PPE items from its global supply hub emergency stocks in Copenhagen, Denmark, in January 2020.

With much of the world's PPE manufacturing concentrated in China, the outbreak had a sharp impact on the global market for these supplies. As lockdown restrictions began to impact the production in China, and with UNICEF emergency stocks depleted, UNICEF expanded its reach for sourcing PPE to meet the demand.

Adapting the response

On 30 January 2020, the outbreak was declared a Public Health Emergency of International Concern by the World Health Organization (WHO).

By mid-February, the virus was spreading across borders and UNICEF expanded its supply response to support the growing needs of an increasing number of countries and areas.

As the outbreak in China began to subside, Chinese manufacturers resumed operations but with limited capacity: manufacturers who were able to return to work faced large backlogs and limited access to raw materials. New policy and export regulations further extended the timeline for supply operations.

Widespread global competition for

PPE led to further shortages and market fragmentation. UNICEF supply operations intensified, and the teams engaged with more than 1,000 suppliers and industry leaders around the world to identify solutions to the market constraints and secure supplies needed at appropriate prices, in an effort to support PPE equitable access for programme countries (see page 20).

To mitigate the risk on transport operations, UNICEF decentralized some stocks for regular programmes from Copenhagen to its supply hubs in Accra, Dubai, Panama City and Shanghai, to position these supplies closer to their destinations if transport operations became further limited. Coordination efforts among partners also intensified to harmonize efforts and to prioritize and organize allocations.

Scaling up the response

COVID-19 was declared a pandemic by WHO on 11 March 2020.

By mid-March, Europe was declared the epicenter of the epidemic, followed by the United States in late March. Global demand for PPE items continued to escalate, far outpacing available supply. Prices for some items surpassed 20 times historical levels.

Logistics constraints also reached unprecedented levels as countries around the world closed their borders to travel and trade. Options for cargo transportation became very limited, shipments of supplies were blocked in airports and prices for charter flights skyrocketed – reducing air shipments of UNICEF supplies in March 2020 by over one-third compared to the previous year. Despite these challenges and thanks to creative solutions and strong collaboration with governments, donors and partners, 400 air shipments were completed in March in support of COVID-19 response efforts and other regular programmes.

To support countries with limited buying power to access essential supplies, UNICEF employed a strategic market approach – that is, consolidating demand and centralizing buying, and working with manufacturers to share risks and negotiate affordable pricing.

Partnership efforts also intensified across the different areas of the response. UNICEF brought its expertise, assets and networks to these collaborations, including the WHO-led COVID-19 Supply Chain System and the Access to COVID-19 Tools Accelerator (ACT-A) initiative – a global collaboration launched in April 2020 and aimed at developing and accelerating access to COVID-19 diagnostics, therapeutics and vaccines (see page 32).

The COVID-19 pandemic not only represented a health risk in itself, it also has severe secondary impact on the well-being of children, threatening to reverse gains made in child health over the last two decades. Throughout 2020, UNICEF continued to support countries in their efforts to respond to COVID-19, and their long-term efforts to re-build, recover and reinstate the systems that children and their families need for the future.

Building local supplier capacity to manufacture personal protective equipment

UNICEF led a joint global tender to ensure immediate availability of quality personal protective equipment (PPE). Supporting them with guidance throughout the competitive process, UNICEF established long-term arrangements (LTAs) with new entrants from different regions and industries.

As the world struggled to contain a fast-growing COVID-19 pandemic, the demand for PPE rose exponentially. Most PPE items are made in Asia, primarily China. But as the region went into lockdown in early 2020, access became severely constrained. Even emergency stockpiles of PPE were no longer available.

This critical situation presented UNICEF with a challenge: how to identify and engage alternative suppliers in other parts of the world who could help bring more PPE to the market. As the United Nations' largest procurer of goods and services, UNICEF led a joint global tender in which 11 agencies of the United Nations and 2 international NGOs participated, complementing the emergency response efforts already in progress.

Consolidating demand through the joint tender generated a response rate of 586 offers at a time when the market was severely constrained. Cross-agency collaboration on technical assessments enabled 348 technical dossiers to be reviewed – a vital activity considering only 55 were found to be technically acceptable. Commercial collaboration led to the establishment of 15 LTAs covering 34 PPE items open to all participating agencies and NGOs as well as additional ones upon request.

UNICEF also began to examine how it could diversify its supplier base worldwide by exploring local manufacturing capacity, both in the medical as well as in the garment industry, in the seven regions in which it operates. To ascertain whether there would be local capacity available to produce PPE supplies to fulfill regional needs, UNICEF Supply Division conducted calls to explain PPE technical, quality and procurement requirements with Regional Directors and Regional Supply Advisors in each region.

One challenge was that each country has its own regulatory requirements including performance standards for the manufacturing of PPE. Additionally, new manufacturers – especially those from the garment industry – lacked knowledge on the required technical specifications and internationally recognized quality standards.

Accordingly, UNICEF focused on building local capacity by providing technical and procurement advice to support manufacturers in determining whether their products meet UNICEF technical specifications and how they can submit their offers for the open procurement process. This entailed substantial efforts to translate technical specifications for the various regions, countries and manufacturers.

The diversified relationships and LTAs that were struck with suppliers of PPE in 2020 will mitigate the risk of supply stock-outs during future global health crises.

REPURPOSING GARMENT MANUFACTURING TO PRODUCE QUALITY PPE FOR SOUTH ASIA

By working closely with the UNICEF South Asia Regional Office and local government partners, UNICEF first identified 50 manufacturers from the garment industry who would be interested in producing quality PPE items for the region. After several discussions on required technical specifications, material availability and regulatory performance standards as well as roles and responsibilities, this was narrowed down to six and ultimately one Sri Lanka-based manufacturer who could meet all the UNICEF PPE requirements.

Scaling up an innovation during a pandemic

In 2020, the oxygen therapy innovation project – originally established to supply oxygen for pneumonia – set up the groundwork to expand access to oxygen in over 90 countries, placing UNICEF in a unique, global position to respond to COVID-related needs.

An innovative response established before the pandemic hit

In 2017, UNICEF Supply Division launched the oxygen therapy innovation project to build new tools to combat pneumonia. With support from the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, the project resulted in three key outcomes:

- 1 Development of the inter-agency guidance manual for procuring oxygen devices that helps decision makers understand what types of equipment are necessary for providing oxygen. The manual was published in partnership with the World Health Organization (WHO) in November 2019.
- 2 Launch of the innovative Oxygen System Planning Tool to help countries map out oxygen equipment needs at health facilities across a country. The tool was officially released in April 2020.
- 3 Update of the UNICEF Supply Catalogue to include the full range of oxygen equipment needed to provide oxygen therapy so that governments, partners and UNICEF staff can access a one-stop-shop for oxygen. By March 2020, over 20 new items were added to the catalogue.

Ready for scale

With the groundwork in place, UNICEF was uniquely positioned to propel an extensive global oxygen response. In 2020 alone, 16,795 oxygen concentrators were shipped to 94 countries. These life-saving machines take in air from the environment, remove nitrogen and produce a continuous source of oxygen. In addition to oxygen concentrators, UNICEF distributed over 12,050 oxygen accessories – such as pulse oximeters, flow splitters, oxygen analyzers and humidifier bottles – and 920,575 consumables – such as nasal cannula, face masks and tubing. Altogether, UNICEF and partners invested $21.9 million in scaling up oxygen products in 2020.

UNICEF also supported many governments to initiate plans to install and refurbish oxygen plants or provide liquid oxygen to further bolster oxygen scale-up efforts using the new system planning tool manual and technical support that it provided.

The oxygen therapy innovation project served as a basis for the global response to the COVID-19 pandemic. UNICEF, WHO and partners from the COVID-19 Supply Chain System Consortia – formed to expand access to oxygen therapy – were able to use the new tools to help establish a global response.

Beyond COVID-19: Continued investments for oxygen

Over the course of 2020, governments, donors, United Nations agencies and partners started to recognize the importance of medical oxygen to help treat pneumonia, whether COVID-19-induced or not. And UNICEF has been there to help lead the way.

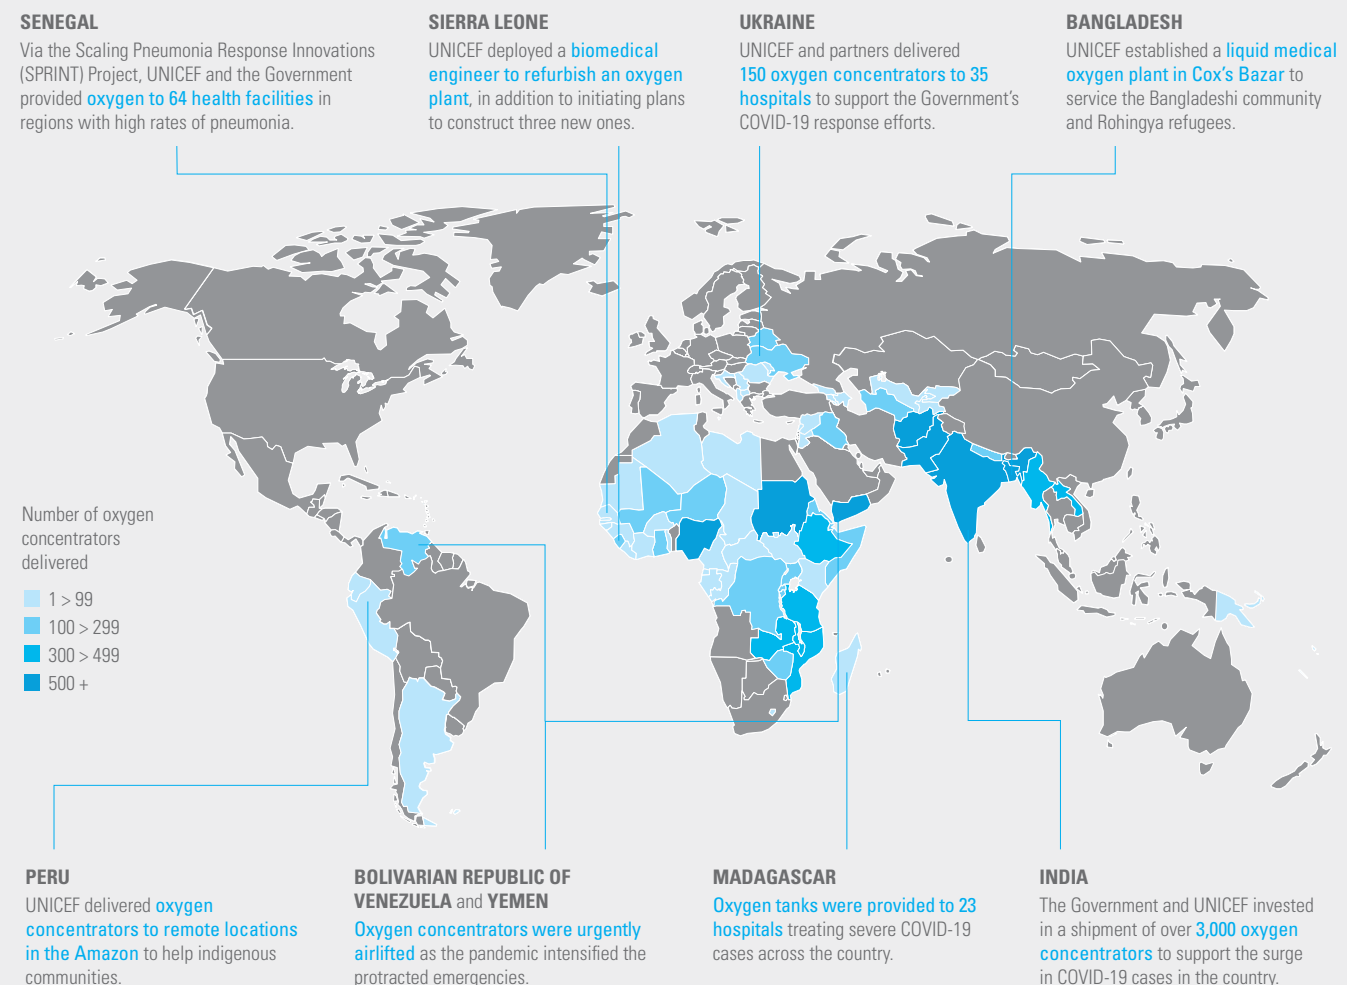

Looking beyond COVID-19, UNICEF will continue its efforts by installing or refurbishing oxygen plants, providing liquid oxygen and distributing oxygen concentrators and equipment. UNICEF is also looking at new ways to improve the work.

In late 2020, UNICEF launched an additional oxygen innovation project – the development of the next generation of oxygen concentrators, specifically designed to work in challenging settings where health facilities face extreme environmental conditions and electricity shortages.

WHERE UNICEF SUPPLIED OXYGEN IN 2020

The response to oxygen needs during the pandemic has been global, rapid and multi-faceted. UNICEF worked with governments and partners to find the best solutions for each unique country context, which in most cases involved a mix of oxygen sources from cylinders, concentrators, plants and liquid oxygen. Some key examples are mentioned in this map.

Getting COVID-19 diagnostic tests into the hands of health workers

UNICEF was one of the first United Nations agencies to procure and deliver large volumes of COVID-19 diagnostic tests, shipping a total of 3.7 million to 63 countries at a value of $44.8 million over the course of 2020.

As a global leader in procuring, distributing and programming for disease diagnostics – including for Ebola, Zika, Malaria and HIV – UNICEF already had a solid system in place.

At the onset of the pandemic, UNICEF urgently initiated the preparatory work by leveraging existing long-term arrangements with major diagnostics suppliers. In parallel, with a new quality assurance policy developed for procuring COVID-19 diagnostics, UNICEF launched a dynamic tender process designed to capture all types of new tests, including rapid diagnostic tests, thereby enabling immediate access to the market.

With financial support from Unitaid, in April 2020, UNICEF procured 280,000 tests that were then delivered to 22 countries, thereby becoming the first United Nations agency to distribute sizeable volumes of COVID-19 diagnostic tests.

Over the course of 2020, there were several challenges due to an increased global demand for diagnostic tests, making it difficult for lower-income countries to access them. To address supply shortages and enable a more equitable access, UNICEF applied special contracting tools that involved financial agreements worth over $60 million to secure the products for programme countries.

This approach helped expand the market to more quality-assured diagnostics manufacturers, which improved availability and access, triggered increased competition among suppliers and lowered the price of COVID-19 diagnostic tests, making them more affordable to countries.

Types of COVID-19 tests and equipment

By the end of 2020 the UNICEF Supply Catalogue featured a variety of COVID-19 diagnostic tests available for global procurement, including 11 molecular (PCR) tests for manual use, four molecular (PCR) tests for automated use and two antigen-detecting rapid tests. In addition, extraction kits and sample collection kits were offered. The three different types of COVID-19 diagnostic tests UNICEF distributes globally are explained above.

COVID-19 diagnostics delivered to 63 countries in 2020

In 2020, over 3.7 million COVID-19 diagnostic tests were shipped to 63 countries, with the largest proportions sent to India, Iran, Nigeria, Uganda and Zimbabwe.

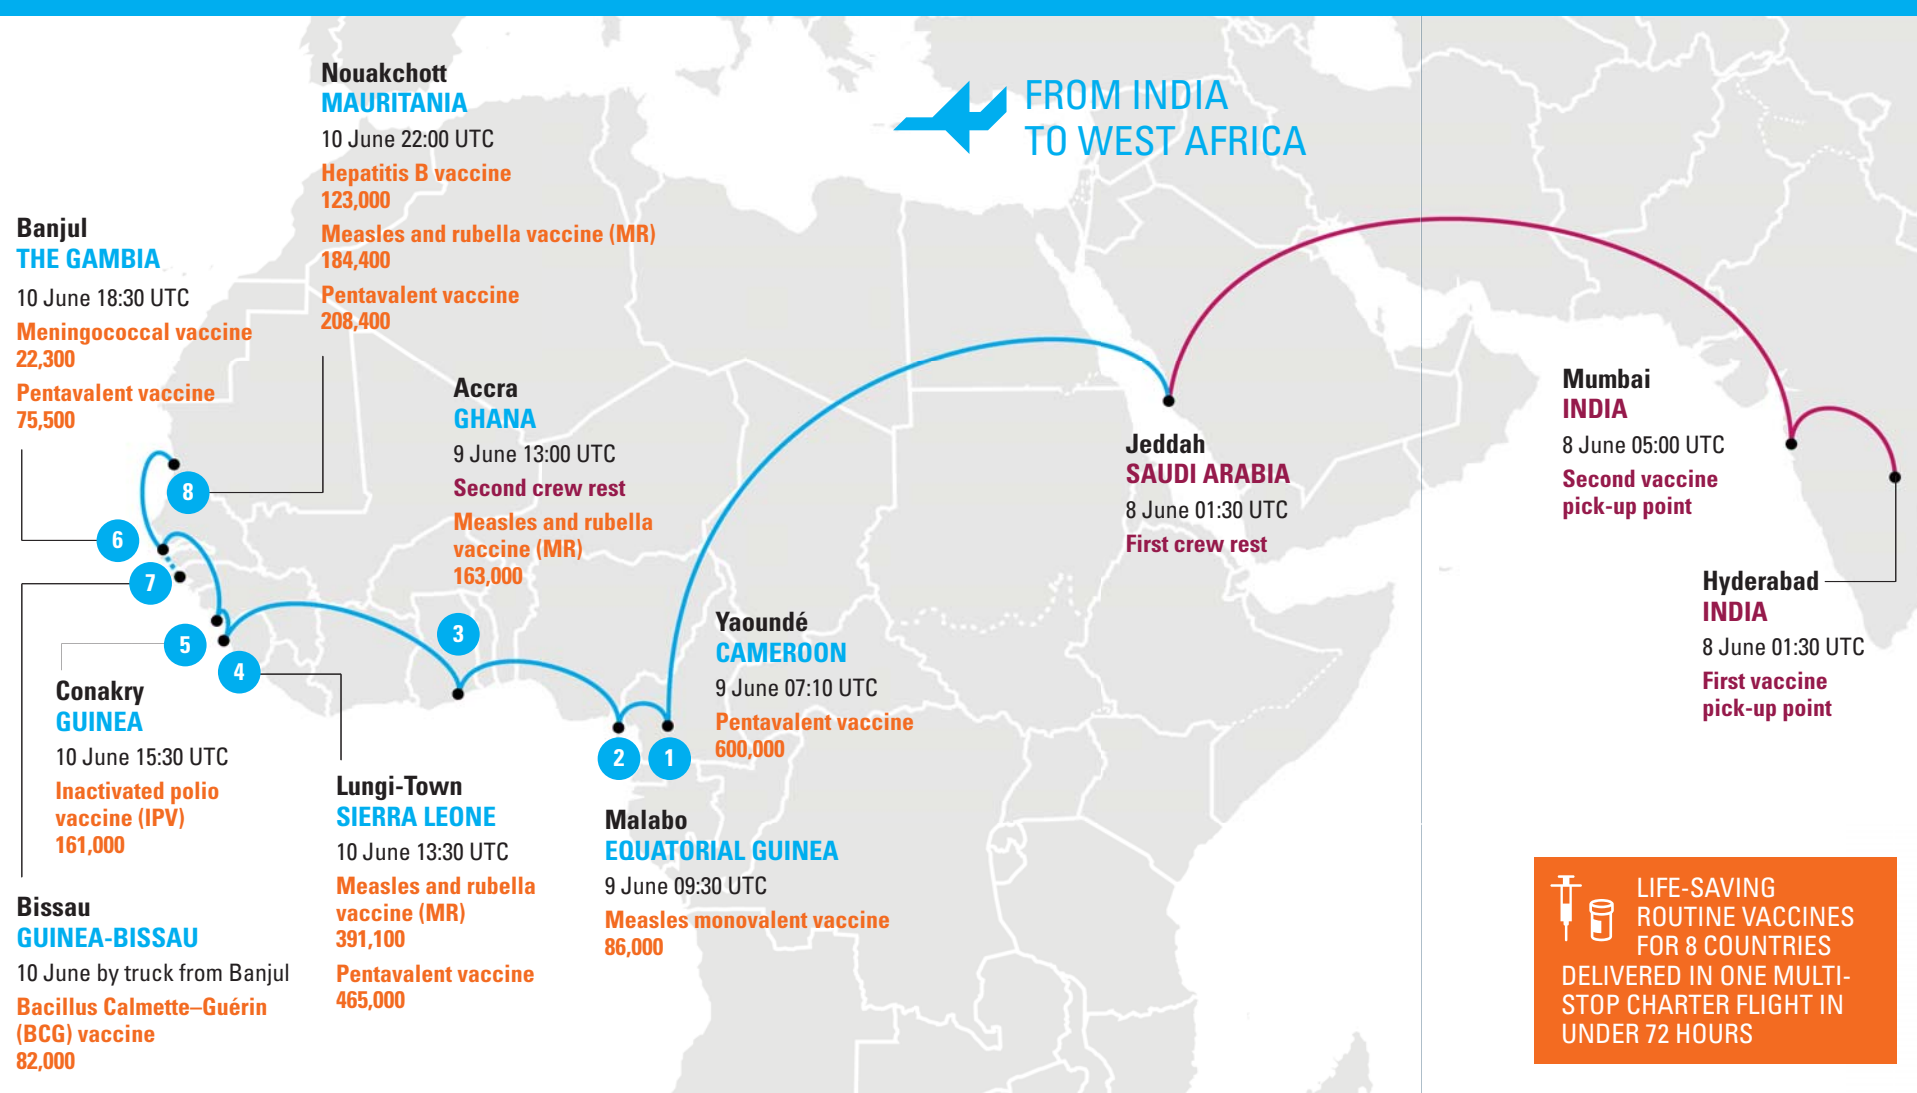

While most countries relied on two to four select products, in Nigeria, an approach for diversification of the supplier base was taken, which helped prevent critical dependencies, allowing for a competitive market and ability to adapt to different needs per location. In partnership with the Nigeria Central Disease Control, UNICEF procured eight different types of COVID-19 diagnostic tests that were delivered to 50 diagnostics laboratories across the country. In addition, thousands of other items, including extraction kits, calibration plates, transport media and swabs were distributed to improve and assist COVID-19 testing.

Championing innovative freight solutions to transport routine vaccines

JOURNEY OF A MULTI-STOP CHARTER FLIGHT

LIFE-SAVING ROUTINE VACCINES FOR 8 COUNTRIES DELIVERED IN ONE MULTI-STOP CHARTER FLIGHT IN UNDER 72 HOURS

UNICEF, the largest single-buyer and logistics provider of vaccines in the world, championed innovative freight solutions to overcome massive disruptions caused by the COVID-19 pandemic and transport over 2 billion doses of vaccines for routine immunization and emergency vaccination campaigns in 2020.

Each year, UNICEF coordinates an average of 10,300 shipments. Of those 2,700 are vaccine shipments to deliver over two billion vaccine doses, to reach approximately 45 per cent of the world's children under five years of age. From March to May in a typical year, UNICEF would have made more than 700 shipments of vaccines to countries – most as airfreight on commercial flights. In the same three-month period in 2020 this number was nearly halved. The steep decline due to the COVID-19 pandemic had an unprecedented impact on global freight operations, creating a massive backlog of shipments.

In mid-June 2020 commercial flights slowly began to resume but at lower frequency and to limited destinations. This resulted in widespread competition for available cargo space and higher freight costs. Many countries continued to be extremely hard to reach by air and some had no available commercial freight options at all.

Multi-stop charter flights

To get vaccines to countries in this challenging context, UNICEF championed innovative, collaborative and agile shipping solutions, particularly for smaller countries with access challenges or for which individual charter flights would come at exorbitant costs.

One such solution was the concept of multi-stop charter flights, which was first piloted by UNICEF in June 2020. Under this approach, several smaller vaccine shipments are pooled into a single aircraft, making stops in several countries. This innovative freight solution substantially decreased the cost of delivery for each country while supporting access to vaccines in locations that would be otherwise difficult to reach due to pandemic-related lockdowns and lack of commercial freight options.

The first multi-stop charter took place in early June 2020, originating in India and delivering 20 million vaccine doses produced by Indian vaccine manufacturers to reach eight countries in West and Central Africa – a region with some of the lowest immunization coverage rates in the world.

Following the success of this operation, a second and third charter were coordinated in late June and early July, originating from the European logistics hub in Belgium where the vaccine doses were consolidated, and delivering them to countries in West and Central Africa, including those hardest to reach.

VALUE OF COLD CHAIN EQUIPMENT PROCURED

Since 2017 and through April 2021, UNICEF delivered over 100,000 refrigerators to 100 countries.

In 2020 alone, UNICEF purchased 22,250 refrigerators for 62 countries, installing 18,340 at health facility-level in 25.

Logistics solutions: leveraging partnerships and convening industry

UNICEF shared its freight forwarding agreements with over 10 United Nations agencies, and equally leveraged its partnerships with donor governments and the private sector to carry out dedicated charters, consolidating routine vaccines and other cargo. In addition to multi-stop charters, such partnership solutions allowed UNICEF to overcome unprecedented freight disruptions and coordinate a total of 2,394 vaccine shipments, successfully delivering 2.01 billion vaccines doses to 102 countries in 2020 – reaching 80 countries between mid-March and mid-June alone (see page 29).

UNICEF has a long history of working with governments, vaccine manufacturers, global and local partners to achieve vaccine security and ensure equitable access to meet immunization coverage goals. This work did not stop during the COVID-19 pandemic, and UNICEF continued to support exchange of information and knowledge sharing around issues related to vaccine supply security. In addition to convening the vaccine industry and leading the discussion on the impact of the pandemic on routine vaccination and the challenges faced by manufacturers (see page 52), UNICEF led landmark meetings with the logistics industry.

To launch preparations for the transport of COVID-19 vaccines, UNICEF convened over 350 logistics partners, including air freight operators, shipping lines and global logistics associations, for a landmark discussion around transportation of COVID-19 vaccines in November 2020. Later in the same month, UNICEF, together with the Pan American Health Organization (PAHO) and the International Air Transport Association (IATA), convened major global airlines to discuss the expected capacity requirements and ways to transport COVID-19 vaccine doses in 2021.

In December 2020, UNICEF and the World Economic Forum (WEF) established a groundbreaking charter signed by CEOs of 18 airline and logistics companies to support the COVAX Facility – prioritizing delivery of COVID-19 vaccines and related supplies, sharing of information and lending company assets, among other measures – and to provide UNICEF with secondments and operational support. Building on its carrier collaboration strategy and charter and in collaboration with the shipping industry, UNICEF was able to mitigate the impact of the global shortage in shipping container space for the COVAX Facility and UNICEF supplies.

Close collaboration with the airline industry and its umbrella body, IATA, led to the establishment of the UNICEF Humanitarian Airfreight Initiative in January 2021. The Initiative was formed with leading airlines to secure the timely and secure delivery of vaccines and other critical supplies. Over 16 key airlines signed memoranda of understanding (MOUs) to support COVAX and UNICEF shipments in general by prioritizing bookings, fair pricing and other measures.

COVID-19 PANDEMIC IMPACT ON VACCINE SHIPMENTS IN 2020

Scaling up local production to increase access to hand hygiene supplies

To contain the spread of the coronavirus and protect children and at-risk communities, UNICEF worked with governments and partners to scale up local production of hand hygiene supplies including soap and hand sanitizers.

A child washes his hands with the UNICEF-supported blue soap in Bujumbura, Burundi

Pandemic or not, hand hygiene supplies help prevent infections and the transmission of pathogens.

As COVID-19 spread across the world and lockdown measures disrupted health supply chains restricting global movement of supplies in 2020, UNICEF looked for local solutions to equip children and their communities as well as health workers with affordable, high-quality hand hygiene supplies.

Working with governments and local partners, UNICEF made soap and hand sanitizers more accessible and affordable at national scale for the most vulnerable in the midst of the pandemic. From subsidizing raw materials to building local capacity, UNICEF addressed hand hygiene supply shortages in different contexts, tailoring its response to support national markets of soap and hand sanitizers.

Making soap more affordable and accessible

Soap is an important, multi-purpose commodity that is easy to produce and distribute. As COVID-19 escalated into a pandemic, UNICEF began looking for ways to scale up local soap production in different countries. To rapidly increase access to and affordability of soap in Burundi, UNICEF entered into a partnership with the largest soap manufacturer in the country. This allowed UNICEF to leverage the manufacturer's production capacity and distribution network to reach vulnerable households with low purchasing power, especially in rural areas. UNICEF supported the manufacturer to switch one of its production lines to produce generic soap in compliance with UNICEF requirements. Branded Blue Soap, the soap was subsidized by UNICEF, USAID, the United Nations Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs (OCHA) and the World Bank, and had a standardized price engraved on its surface to avoid bulk buying and price grouping. Through this partnership, 43 million soap bars at half the price of non-subsidized soap were produced in four months, from June through October 2020. All soap bars were distributed and made available at retailers across the country within that same period.

Meeting the demand for hand sanitizers with innovative partnerships

Like soap, hand sanitizers are easily made locally. However, an unprecedented surge in demand for hand sanitizers in 2020 translated to supply shortages that could not be addressed with offshore procurement. This was the case in many countries such as Iraq where the dearth of hand sanitizers in health facilities and schools was especially concerning. With the support of the United Kingdom's Foreign, Commonwealth and Development

Office (FCDO), the Government of Japan and the German development bank Kreditanstalt für Wiederaufbau (KfW), UNICEF worked with graduate students from the pharmaceutical department of the University of Karbala to produce and ensure local availability of hand sanitizers. Working closely with the Iraqi Ministry of Health, the UNICEF Iraq Country Office provided technical guidance to students to meet required regulations and quality-assurance standards of production. The 'Sustain Hand Hygiene for All' partnership resulted in the production of 78,500 bottles totaling 19,625 litres of hand sanitizer as well as 30,000 bottles of disinfectant totaling 33,320 liters. At $2 per unit, the production cost of a 250 millilitres bottle of hand sanitizer was a third of the average market price. During its seven-month run, production averaged 2,500 bottles of hand sanitizer per day.

COVAX: The largest vaccine supply operation ever

The COVID-19 pandemic reached every part of the world. To end it, vaccines must do the same. UNICEF, on behalf of the COVAX Facility, is leading the procurement and delivery of COVID-19 vaccines to ensure equitable access for participating countries and areas, regardless of their wealth.

Procuring COVID-19 vaccines and syringes

As the largest single vaccine buyer in the world and with decades of experience in vaccine procurement and logistics, UNICEF was called upon to coordinate and support the procurement, international freight and in-country distribution of COVID-19 vaccines for the COVAX Facility—the only multilateral effort of its kind to ensure equitable access to COVID-19 vaccines for low- and middle-income countries.

To help inform procurement strategies and address potential supply risks, UNICEF undertook a vaccine market assessment and worked with countries to help establish their interest in receiving doses through the COVAX Facility.

While the world waited for quality-assured COVID-19 vaccines to become available, UNICEF was busy prepositioning more than half a billion syringes in its global supply hubs in Copenhagen and Dubai so that they could be shipped in coordination with vaccine doses. By the end of 2021, UNICEF aims to deliver up to 1 billion auto-disable syringes and 10 million safety boxes for their disposal to countries in support of COVID-19 vaccination campaigns.

Another critical element of getting countries ready is ensuring their cold chain infrastructure is set up to receive and store the vaccines. UNICEF, alongside governments and the World Health Organization (WHO), mapped out existing cold chain equipment and storage capacity in the private as well as public sector and prepared guidance for countries to receive the COVID-19 vaccines.

Delivering hope

COVAX represents perhaps the most complex logistical challenge in history. In mid-2020, UNICEF began preparations for the international airfreight operation on behalf of participating countries. Major challenges to overcome included aligning supply chains, dealing with cold chain restraints, working through the impact of COVID-19 on the airfreight market and, most significantly, coordinating the global scale of the COVAX vaccine rollout.

UNICEF also collaborated with airlines, freight forwarders and the wider logistics industry to ensure that, by the time vaccines were ready for transportation, sufficient cargo capacity and cold chain requirements were in place for the fast and safe delivery of COVID-19 vaccines to COVAX-participating countries and territories (see page 28).

Delivering together

Building new partnerships and strengthening long-standing cooperation with both public and private sectors are paramount towards achieving COVAX aims.

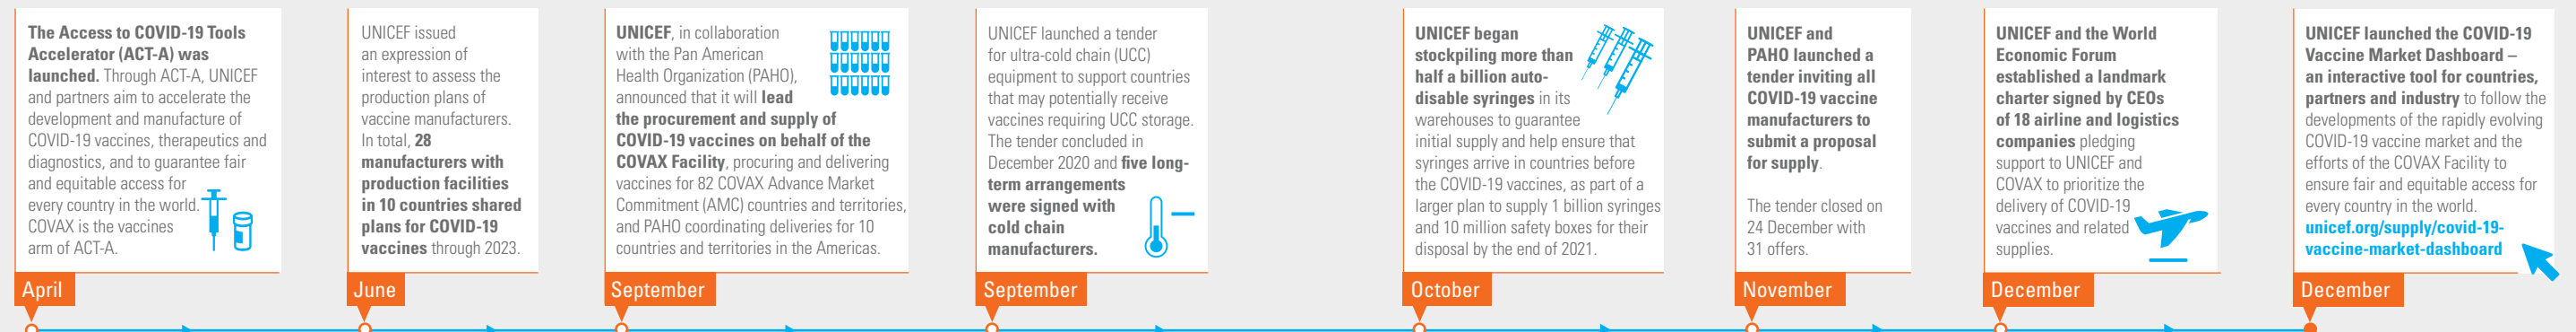

UNICEF, as COVAX procurement agency and procurement coordinator, alongside the Coalition for Epidemic Preparedness Innovation (CEPI), Gavi, the Vaccine Alliance, and WHO worked closely with developed and developing country vaccine manufacturers, the World Bank, civil society organizations and others in preparation for vaccine rollout.

However, the scale of the operation required partnerships beyond traditional ones. In 2020, UNICEF engaged with the World Economic Forum (WEF), the International Air Transport Association (IATA) and other groups so that a well-planned vaccine supply effort could begin as soon as quality-assured vaccines were ready for transport from manufacturers and long-term supply agreements were in place.

RESPONDING TO EMERGENCIES

Shuoia and her granddaughters receive health supplies in Hadramout Governorate, Yemen, where UNICEF is supporting authorities to establish WASH facilities in 49 quarantine and 10 isolation centres

UNICEF on the front lines

In 2020, the UNICEF emergency supply and logistics operations spanned 143 countries and areas and reached a global procurement value of $682.5 million.

The COVID-19 pandemic profoundly impacted the work of UNICEF Supply Division. By the close of 2020, UNICEF had procured emergency supplies worth $682.5 million – almost double the figure for 2019 – of which $442.6 million were in response to the COVID-19 pandemic. These supplies were procured for 143 countries and areas – a 147 per cent increase over the previous year. Sourcing such vast quantities required adjustments to UNICEF procedures and the expansion of procurement from local manufacturers, while ensuring that quality standards were always met.

Staff in the supply function across the globe faced unprecedented challenges. The control measures taken by governments meant that many factories and borders were forced to close. Shipments of supplies both between and within countries were quarantined, while freight prices skyrocketed. Even UNICEF air shipments of essential supplies were drastically curtailed.

Despite the intense pressure on staff and systems and unprecedented disruptions to global freight networks, UNICEF managed to maintain its regular supply operations for children and continue responding to ongoing, concurrent emergencies.

Working with governments, partners and suppliers, UNICEF reached children and communities affected by protracted conflicts, displacement and outbreaks with the supplies they need to survive and recover throughout the year.

In Yemen, the world's largest humanitarian crisis, UNICEF delivered, among other life-saving supplies, 26 million routine vaccine doses as well as cold chain equipment such as solar-powered refrigerators. Similarly, in the highly insecure region of Central Sahel, UNICEF overcame a range of challenges to continue reaching children in remote and inaccessible areas.

UNICEF continued finding local solutions to its emergency procurement needs in the Syrian Arab Republic, with local procurement accounting for most of the total procurement value.

To help reduce transmission and contain further spreads of Ebola outbreaks, UNICEF procured and prepositioned essential supplies in the Democratic Republic of the Congo and the surrounding region.

Working closely with national authorities and local partners in the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela, UNICEF delivered critical supplies such as personal protective equipment (PPE) items, vaccines, medical equipment, nutrition products and education kits.

On the subsequent pages, the UNICEF supply and logistics response is described for the highest-level emergencies in 2020.

VALUE OF EMERGENCY RESPONSE FOR 143 COUNTRIES AND AREAS

CENTRAL SAHEL

The humanitarian crisis in the Central Sahel countries of Burkina Faso, Mali and Niger deteriorated rapidly in 2020, amid unprecedented levels of armed violence, rights violations and displacement exacerbated by the consequences of climate change. Over 7 million children now depend on humanitarian assistance, of whom 1.24 million have been displaced from their homes. The deteriorating situation was particularly evident in Burkina Faso whose displaced population increased by 70 per cent during the year. The onset of the COVID-19 pandemic added another layer of complexity to the task of delivering life-saving supplies to children in a highly insecure region. Even so, UNICEF supplies continued to make an important difference to children's lives.

In Niger, the Rapid Response Mechanism (RRM) was in frequent demand to meet the acute multisectoral humanitarian needs in the very first hours after displacement. From January to December 2020, through the RRM, UNICEF provided tarpaulins, water and sanitation supplies and other non-food supply items to more than 14,000 affected households.

Mali faced a different kind of challenge in an epidemic of a circulating vaccine-derived poliovirus type 2 (cVDPV2) that produced 31 confirmed cases. Amid fears of the virus spreading rapidly, UNICEF joined the Government and Global Polio Eradication Initiative Partners to implement a mass immunization campaign that reached over 3.6 million children under 5 years old.

In Burkina Faso, as across the region, schools closed to counter the spread of COVID-19. In partnership with nine international and national non-governmental organizations and government authorities, UNICEF supported the enrolment of over 230,000 children through the creation and rehabilitation of Temporary Learning Spaces in the form of tents to serve as classrooms in host schools. UNICEF also procured and distributed essential educational supplies.

THE SYRIAN ARAB REPUBLIC AND THE SURROUNDING REGION

Besides concluding a brutal decade of conflict in Syria, 2020 witnessed a further aggravation of the scale, severity and complexity of the humanitarian needs of Syrian children and their families.

A downturn in the economy and rising prices of food and other basic commodities, compounded by the socio-economic impact of COVID-19 and ongoing hostilities, produced devastating consequences particularly for displaced families and returnees in the northwest and northeast regions of the country.

In this bleak setting, with 4.7 million children in need of humanitarian assistance, UNICEF supplies played a critical part in providing some of the neediest with access to health, immunization and nutrition as well as scaled-up WASH and hygiene services. The overall volume of UNICEF-procured commodities rose significantly due to the addition of 26 million personal protective equipment (PPE) items in response to the COVID-19 pandemic. Those were predominantly procured locally. As in previous years, local procurement remained high, promoting sustainability and strengthening the humanitarian development continuum. Throughout the year, UNICEF supplies helped spare populations in conflict-affected areas from some of the effects of the destruction and lack of maintenance done to the national water and sanitation infrastructure. One example was the provision of sodium hypochlorite to ensure proper chlorination of water in all governorates, thereby contributing to preventing outbreaks of major waterborne diseases. In all, UNICEF assisted 3.3 million people whether through supplying safe domestic water, providing sanitation infrastructure maintenance, solid waste management, or provision of hygiene supplies.

UNICEF-procured supplies were central to the restoration of primary health care facilities in six governorates. Thirty-six prefabricated clinics were installed to serve communities severely affected by the conflict or in areas where no functional health centres previously existed. Reinforcing basic health facilities in this way had significant health benefits for children – for example, by facilitating polio immunization efforts that reached 2.6 million children and the distribution of micronutrients to 1.6 million children as well as pregnant and lactating women.

BOLIVARIAN REPUBLIC OF VENEZUELA

More than 5.4 million Venezuelans left their country in one of the world's largest migration crises. Most of them now live within the region, with the largest populations in Colombia, Peru, Ecuador and Brazil.

In 2020, UNICEF's response stretched across five countries, reaching over 885,000 people and 525,000 children from migrant and host communities. The delivery of supplies and services to key sectors such as health, water, education and nutrition was adjusted to comply with COVID-19 containment measures.

Within Venezuela itself, the response to COVID-19 dominated UNICEF's work for children. UNICEF brought in and distributed more than 1,800 tons of supplies, including 2.8 million gloves and other items. Around 300 tons of health, water, sanitation and hygiene supplies were delivered by air as efforts to control the virus intensified.

Across the region, UNICEF prioritized its work in five countries containing 77 per cent of the population in need. In Colombia, primary health care and services such as micronutrient supplementation were maintained. WASH activities were refocused with more emphasis on the distribution of supplies, alongside promotion of handwashing and service provision. In Ecuador, UNICEF worked alongside partners towards a gradual and safe reopening of schools. Supplies comprised an important element of the strategy, which involved the improvement of toilet facilities, installation of handwashing stations and improved hygiene conditions.

THE DEMOCRATIC REPUBLIC OF THE CONGO AND THE SURROUNDING REGION

Amid efforts to end a series of Ebola outbreaks and a burgeoning response to the COVID-19 pandemic, simple infection prevention and control materials such as soap and water containers comprised an important part of UNICEF Supply Division's contribution to tackling the complex humanitarian emergency in the Democratic Republic of the Congo (DRC).

During 2020, nearly 4,000 health facilities in affected health zones were provided with essential water and sanitation services while more than 3,000 schools in high-risk areas were provided with handwashing facilities. UNICEF also supported the decontamination of 480 households, 255 health facilities, 26 public places and 8 schools.

In eastern areas of the country, Ebola and COVID-19 have compounded the suffering of more than 3 million children and their families forced from their homes and livelihoods by violence involving armed militia groups. Key to the UNICEF efforts to provide these children with emergency assistance has been the Rapid Response initiative, which provided life-saving emergency packages of water and sanitation supplies, cooking utensils and other non-food items to nearly 550,000 people.

With many clinics and staff unable to function due to the security situation and other factors, providing vaccines and other supplies for the most vulnerable children was a high priority. As a result, over half a million children in DRC aged 6 months to 14 years were vaccinated against measles, and over 380,000 children aged 6 to 59 months affected by Severe Acute Malnutrition had access to treatment.

YEMEN

During a year in which Yemen spiraled ever deeper into a brutal civil war, UNICEF Supply Division's work for children was more critical than ever. The plight of some 4.4 million people, including 1.7 million children, displaced by conflict or other causes was of particular concern. Among the strategies employed was the Rapid Response Mechanism, which delivered packages of vital food, hygiene and other supplies to more than 645,000 people.

Despite severe operational challenges resulting from the conflict, UNICEF supplies helped many of Yemen's neediest families. Safe water was delivered to more than 2 million children through a combination of water trucking and the repair and installation of pumping systems and water points. Around 26 million doses of vaccines were procured, delivered and distributed around the country along with solar-powered refrigerators to support the vaccine cold chain. Special therapeutic food products treated around 230,000 young children suffering from Severe Acute Malnutrition.

Even as the effects of the five-year long conflict worsened, Yemen was also grappling with the COVID-19 pandemic. By late August 2020, UNICEF had provided masks, gowns and other personal protective equipment (PPE) items sufficient for 20,000 front line health workers to ensure the continuity of health and nutrition services for the next six months.

RESPONDING TO SUDDEN-ONSET EMERGENCIES

Supporting natural disaster response

Natural disasters often strike without warning. But being prepared can make all the difference to the response. So it proved when hurricane Eta struck Nicaragua in November 2020, threatening some 1,227,000 people, including nearly half a million children.

As powerful storm surges, flooding and landslides struck coastal areas in Nicaragua, UNICEF and its partners were immediately able to draw on prepositioned emergency supplies. These included 3,000 family hygiene kits, 3,000 water containers, water disinfection tablets to treat approximately 3,400 cubic metres of water and 50 chlorine test kits for water quality monitoring.

Similar preparations demonstrated their life-saving value in July 2020, when Tropical Storm Gonzalo hit the Eastern Caribbean, home to 2.3 million people including almost 600,000 children. Following warnings of an unusually severe hurricane season, UNICEF had readied emergency supplies for vulnerable communities while also working to address the additional logistics challenges posed by COVID-19, including new hygiene and social distancing protocols. Items stockpiled included emergency water and hygiene supplies for over 3,000 people, tents and pop-up health and counseling centres and Child Friendly Spaces together with education supplies, such as the School-in-a-Box, Recreation and Early Childhood Development kits.

The disruption to health services caused by severe flooding and storms in Viet Nam raised concerns over the situation of an estimated 10,000 children under 5 years old suffering from Severe Acute Malnutrition (SAM). UNICEF Supply Division swiftly delivered ready-to-use therapeutic food (RUTF) from the UNICEF Global Supply Hub in Copenhagen. Manufactured in the form of a soft biscuit, RUTF provides all the energy and micro-nutrients required for the treatment of SAM. A first consignment of 10 tons arrived in Viet Nam in late November.

In Wawa Bar, Nicaragua, 447 children and adolescents receive backpacks and education supplies as part of the UNICEF response to Hurricanes Eta and Iota

If storm seasons are somewhat predictable, the same cannot be said of earthquakes of the kind that struck central Croatia in late December 2020. In the wake of the worst earthquake to hit the country in 140 years, UNICEF moved fast to help affected communities with the delivery of 13.5 tons of emergency supplies. Among them were 30,000 packages of hygiene products delivered to schools, kindergartens, hospitals and health centres.

Despite the logistics challenges and damage to infrastructure caused by natural disasters, UNICEF quickly mobilizes a rapid response in their aftermath, working with governments, partners and suppliers and reaching children and communities with life-saving supplies.

Immediate supply response to the Beirut explosions

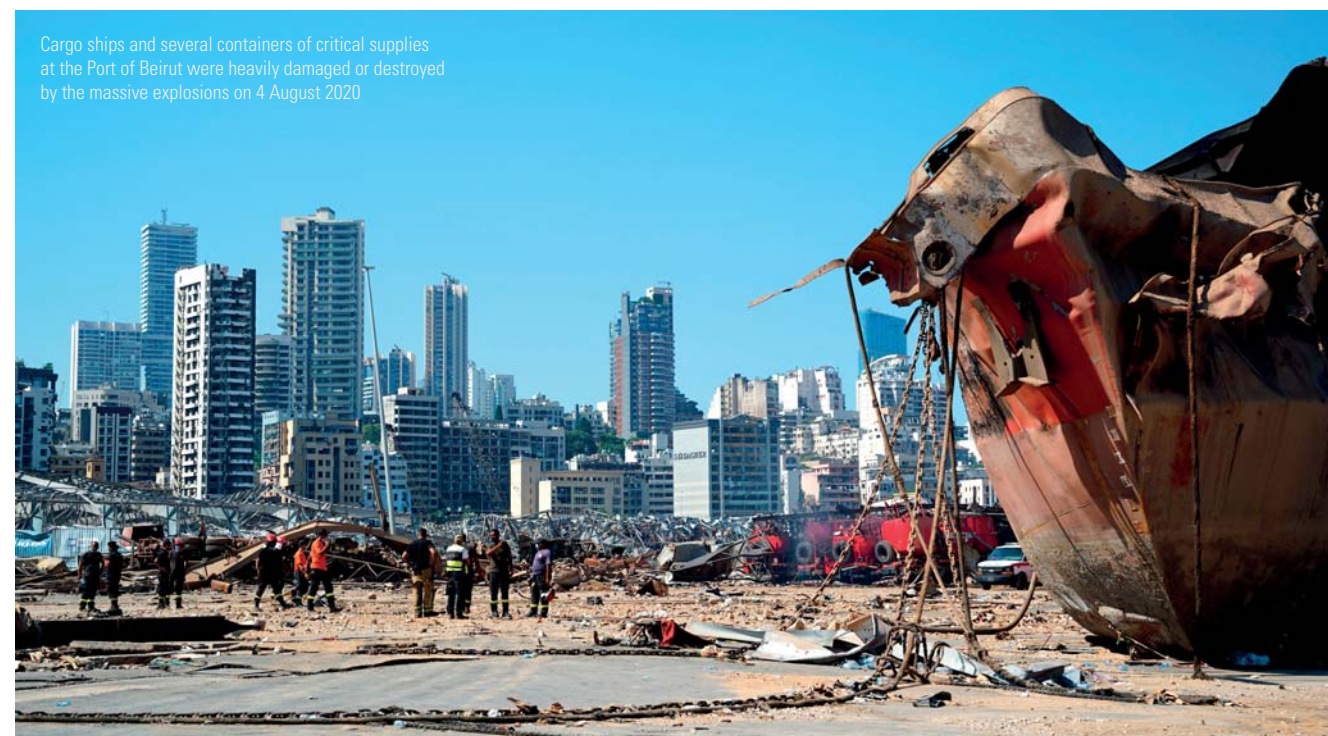

In the aftermath of the Beirut explosions on 4 August 2020, UNICEF immediately procured critical supplies for children and health services and replaced hundreds of thousands of personal protective equipment (PPE) items that were destroyed in the Port of Beirut area.

The devastating explosions that ripped through Beirut, Lebanon, left thousands of people dead or injured, among them many children. Alongside its local partners, UNICEF moved swiftly to support a traumatized population, with life-saving supplies making up a critical part of the immediate response.

Before the end of August, UNICEF had dispatched 67 tons of medical, health, hygiene and nutrition supplies to Beirut, either through special airlifts or via commercial cargo routes. Prepositioned supplies of life-saving products played their part in the early phase of the UNICEF response. Among them were 1.7 million vaccine doses salvaged from a damaged warehouse near the explosion site.

Other items, including personal protective equipment (PPE), infection protection and control (IPC) kits and hygiene supplies were procured locally wherever possible.

Addressing the extensive damage done to water systems and medical facilities was a high priority. Within one hundred days of the disaster, UNICEF and its partners had installed nearly 5,000 water tanks including many in three heavily affected hospitals. Water supply connections had been re-established for over 4,000 households. The nutritional needs of over 22,000 of the most vulnerable children were addressed through the supply of Vitamin A supplements, high energy biscuits and emergency food rations.

Cargo ships and several containers of critical supplies at the Port of Beirut were heavily damaged or destroyed by the massive explosions on 4 August 2020

Tigray region of Ethiopia

As the humanitarian crisis unfolded in the Tigray region of Ethiopia in November 2020, UNICEF reached children and vulnerable communities with health, hygiene, nutrition and other emergency supplies, in addition to $3.3 million worth of COVID-19 non-immunization supplies to support front line workers in the region.

Internally displaced persons receive water, sanitation and hygiene supplies distributed by UNICEF in the Tigray region of Ethiopia

The eruption of conflict in the Tigray region of Ethiopia in November 2020 had a profoundly damaging impact on the lives and well-being of children. Hospitals and other civilian infrastructure were damaged or destroyed, and critical supplies looted. Fuel to operate water and sanitation systems was often unavailable. Thousands of people fled to neighbouring Sudan while many others were displaced within Ethiopia.

Restrictions on access meant that it was not until January 2021 that UNICEF and its partners dispatched a first convoy of 22 trucks into Tigray laden with critical life-saving supplies. These permitted the resumption of maternal and neonatal services at 12 hospitals. Consignments of tents, plastic sheets, dignity kits and other non-food items followed soon after.

Providing safe water to people in refugee camps, Internally Displaced Persons Sites and affected local communities was a priority, whether through the rehabilitation of damaged water boreholes or the trucking of water to distribution points. In the past three months, water trucking operations had reached 640,000 refugees, Internally Displaced Persons and people living in host communities.

Early assessments confirmed a sharp spike in rates of malnutrition among children caught up in the violence. The provision of fortified foods and milk ensured that over 3,773 children suffering from Severe Acute Malnutrition were treated via UNICEF-supported therapeutic feeding programmes.

The UNICEF Supply Community at the forefront of our results

Resilience and diversity. These are the attributes that helped the UNICEF Supply Community navigate uncharted territories in 2020, turning challenges into learning and growth opportunities to bring hope and solidarity where they were needed the most.

Resilience

Facing an unprecedented global health emergency, we worked together through challenging circumstances and remained focused on our common goal of helping realize children's rights. We tapped into the UNICEF core values of care, respect, integrity, trust and accountability to strengthen our connectedness. We shared professional expertise, acquired new skills and addressed the unique challenges of 2020 with innovative solutions.

Diversity

The following pages present 8 testimonials out of the 1,209 notable examples of dedication to achieve the extraordinary. They also reveal a key driver of our success: diversity. The Supply Community members represent 142 nationalities, working in 183 offices across 106 countries. Diversity is also evident in the breadth of our cumulative years of experience and depth of our supply and logistics work, which was further expanded during the pandemic.

Highly agile, globally responsive and pandemic-proof, this is the UNICEF Supply Community behind our extraordinary results.

DENMARK | Planning transport operations amid lockdowns has been extremely challenging. Huge demand, limited supply and skyrocketing transport costs meant we had to reconsider priorities, optimize our loadings, share space, bundle equipment and take every measure to secure freight priority for our supplies to reach children, communities and health workers. To achieve this, we worked closely together with other United Nations agencies and corporate donors. I was deployed to the World Health Organization headquarters in Geneva as part of the United Nations COVID-19 Supply Chain Inter-Agency Coordination Cell (SCICC) to ensure daily operational coordination, given that UNICEF-procured COVID-related supplies constituted a large part of the total volume transported through the SCICC.

ZIMBABWE | With the support of the Government of Zimbabwe, we approached the market of personal protective equipment (PPE) collectively as the development sector, which helped control the prices for these high-demand supplies. UNICEF led the procurement process for PPE on behalf of the sector, sharing over 40 long-term arrangements (LTAs). The process increased the PPE supplier pool and resulted in substantial cost reduction.

UNICEF is also mainstreaming sustainable procurement in Zimbabwe, requiring suppliers to answer a sustainability questionnaire to assess carbon footprint. All the millions of textbooks we procure each year are sustainably sourced from Forestry Sustainability Council-certified suppliers. Our team procures jerrycans made of recycled plastic only and we have so far helped recycle 215,000 kilograms of used plastic.

RABAB SAFFIDEEN | Supply and Logistics Officer

LEBANON | In the aftermath of the massive explosions at the Port of Beirut that destroyed the Lebanese Ministry of Health's central warehouse, our team immediately mobilized to save 1.75 million vaccines doses and over 300 cubic metres of medicine. We safely transported these essential supplies to store them in the UNICEF warehouse, ensuring the continuation of immunization campaigns across Lebanon. We also started working on the rehabilitation of the cold chain and provision of solar energy for Government warehouses – a critical step in preparation for the arrival of COVID-19 vaccines. Responding to the devastating Beirut explosions on top of the COVID-19 pandemic presented was an extraordinary achievement at all levels (see page 44).

NIE PING

Procurement Assistant

CHINA | When it was first established in March 2020, the UNICEF Global Supply Hub in Shanghai had a total volume of outbound shipments of 24,000 square metres. Within half a year, this increased to 84,000 square metres with four bonded warehouses. Operational duties increased accordingly, and high-level coordination was crucial. We worked with suppliers to ensure commodities comply with export requirements. We sought to simplify the export process for humanitarian shipments from the Government of China, especially for personal protective equipment (PPE) items. We established operational procedures and workflows with partners and freight forwarders. And we were left with a great sense of accomplishment navigating new challenges to deliver on-time shipments to one country after another.

ÖZGÜR TACER

Supply and Procurement Officer

TURKEY | The situation in Turkey having a massive refugee mobility towards its north western borders with Europe was exacerbated by the COVID-19 pandemic. Despite the impact of the pandemic on supply operations, our team was able to support the emergency response to the in-country mobility and possible new influxes by prepositioning supplies in strategic locations along the south eastern and north western borders. Working with suppliers, we ensured seamless and timely procurement of the needed quantities for the emergency response. This allowed us to continue reaching children and their families with relief, education and hygiene supplies. Additionally, UNICEF was chosen to lead procurement of personal protective equipment (PPE) on behalf of United Nations agencies in Turkey.

ANTOINE NGAMALE | Logistics Associate

CAMEROON | To optimize UNICEF logistics operations on strategic corridors during a critical time, our team conducted a capacity assessment of the Port of Kribi in Cameroon in the midst of the pandemic. The decision to use this new terminal as port of entry for landlocked Chad and the Central African Republic resulted in a 2-week gain on lead time, 80 per cent reduction on extra charges and improving on-time delivery of supplies for children. We further optimized shipping operations by piloting a project that demonstrated the benefits of transferring additional responsibilities to freight forwarders. This approach has been rolled out throughout the West and Central Africa region.

BABRAK HASAIR | Supply and Logistics Officer

AFGHANISTAN | The challenges of the COVID-19 pandemic presented our team with an opportunity to create a more sustainable supply chain for soap in the local market. As the pandemic escalated and global supply chains were massively disrupted, sourcing quality soap became a huge challenge. The Afghanistan Country Office supply section rose to the challenge, procuring 4 million soap bars that were distributed across the country. This was possible following substantial efforts to identify local soap manufacturers with whom we communicated UNICEF requirements to produce the needed soap for the pandemic response. The UNICEF logo and short messages promoting hand hygiene were engraved on the soap bars (see page 30).

ANA MARCELA BOQUIN HENRIQUEZ | Administrative Assistant

HONDURAS | The COVID-19 pandemic and hurricanes Eta and Iota left a trail of pain and destruction in Honduras and the region. I am proud to say that despite these difficult circumstances our team achieved great results, including: safe water for children through the provision of 4,480 water filters, 80 water tanks, 8,800 water containers, 18,200 purifying water tablets and sachets; education continuity through the provision of 358,000 educational work books for children and software development support to the Honduran Ministry of Education; support for national vaccination campaigns through the provision of 3,100 high-filtration masks to health workers; and improving nutrition needs of children through the provision of 32,000 micronutrients sachets (see page 42).

UNICEF collaborates with a wide range of partners at all stages of the supply chain and across its key products and service groups. Together, UNICEF and partners carry out a variety of supply interventions, such as product innovation, global and local procurement, market shaping and strengthening sustainable procurement practices.

Leveraging these strategic collaborations in 2020 allowed UNICEF and partners to keep delivering results for children and address COVID-19-related challenges and disruptions to humanitarian supply chains.

This section highlights some of these strategic collaborations in 2020.

INNOVATION

Vaccine Innovation Prioritization Strategy

Together with WHO, Gavi, the Vaccine Alliance, PATH and the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, UNICEF co-leads the Vaccine Innovation Prioritization Strategy (VIPS) with the aim to drive vaccine delivery innovation to better meet country needs and support Alliance goals on immunization coverage and equity. In 2020, VIPS's prioritization resulted in the ultimate selection of three innovations for which VIPS engaged in advancing development and access – listed in order of priority: Microarray patches (MAPs); Heat stable and Controlled Temperature Chain (CTC) qualified vaccines; and barcodes.

Disability-friendly Latrine Add-on

Developed by UNICEF and partners, the Disability-friendly Latrine Add-on supports access to sanitation services for persons with disabilities. The Danish Handicap Organization was involved in the technical review of the prototype, and UNHCR, Save the Children and CARE in the field testing. The innovative product was made available for procurement in the UNICEF Supply Catalogue and introduced to the Emergency Supplies List in 2020. It has been installed in the Rohingya refugee camps in Bangladesh and dispatched to support refugees and Internally Displaced Persons from the Tigray region of Ethiopia.

Joint UNICEF-UNFPA-WHO meeting with manufacturers and suppliers of medicines and diagnostics

The annual Joint UNICEF-UNFPA-WHO meeting was held virtually for the first time from 30 November to 2 December 2020. The joint meeting brought together manufacturers and suppliers of active pharmaceutical ingredients, finished pharmaceutical products, in-vitro diagnostics, vaccines, vector control products, contraceptives, contraceptive devices and a wide range of experts and stakeholders from the United Nations family, procurement agencies and international donors.

INDUSTRY CONSULTATIONS (for logistics industry consultations, see page 28)

Vaccine Industry Consultation

UNICEF convened vaccine industry representatives via its annual Vaccine Industry Consultation (VIC), leading the discussion on the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on routine vaccination and challenges faced by vaccine manufacturers. Due to the ongoing pandemic, the 2020 VIC was held virtually. The online format helped to support record-breaking attendance, with representatives from 34 manufacturers currently supplying or intending to supply vaccines through UNICEF. In addition to manufacturers, participants from 12 partner organizations tuned in to attend the event across time zones.

Vaccine Procurement Practitioners Exchange Forum

Through its annual Vaccine Procurement Practitioners Exchange Forum (VPPEF), UNICEF convened over 350 participants from 74 countries – the largest VPPEF to date, featuring panelists from Gavi, the Vaccine Alliance, WHO and UNICEF Supply Division. UNICEF established the VPPEF in 2015 as a resource for procurement practitioners supporting national immunization programmes. The eVPPEF 2020 provided country participants with timely updates on the COVAX Facility, UNICEF's role as Procurement Coordinator and Procurement Agency and necessary tools and support available for the procurement of COVID-19 vaccines and vaccine-related supplies.

QUALITY ASSURANCE

Quality assurance for Ready-to-use Therapeutic Food

In order to maintain a continued oversight over manufacturers of Ready-to-use Therapeutic Food (RUTF) during a period where physical audits were not feasible, UNICEF Supply Division, WFP, MSF and USAID jointly developed protocols for remote inspections of manufacturers and performed seven audits in six countries.

EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS

Ebola vaccine stockpile

In 2020, following years of collaboration with Gavi, the Vaccine Alliance, WHO and other partners, UNICEF concluded the procurement process leading to the establishment of the first global Ebola vaccine stockpile. The stockpile, under governance of the International Coordination Group on Vaccine Provision, will play a key role in the efforts to bring potential Ebola outbreaks quickly under control.

PANDEMIC RESPONSE

The Access to COVID-19 Tools Accelerator

Through the Access to COVID-19 Tools Accelerator (ACT-A), UNICEF and partners aim to accelerate the development and manufacture of COVID-19 vaccines, therapeutics and diagnostics, and to guarantee fair and equitable access for every country in the world. COVAX is the vaccines arm of ACT-A.

The COVAX Facility

In 2020, UNICEF was appointed procurement coordinator and agency by the COVAX Facility established with the purpose to accelerate development, production and equal access to urgently needed COVID-19 vaccines. A successful tender issued jointly with PAHO resulted in offers for more than 30 pipeline vaccines, laying the ground to achieve the ambitious goal to secure access to 2 billion doses of a vaccine by 2021, which would be an unprecedented timeline for any vaccine. Achieving this target will require a true global partnership.

Oxygen

With support from the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation, UNICEF worked with WHO to develop practical tools for governments building oxygen systems. This included developing an inter-agency technical specifications and guidance manual for procuring oxygen devices as well as the Oxygen System Planning Tool to help countries map out oxygen equipment needs. UNICEF also updated its Supply Catalogue to include the full range of products required to provide oxygen. This innovative work has been critical in responding to the COVID-19 pandemic, with UNICEF shipping over 16,000 oxygen concentrators in 2020 (see page 22).

SHARED SERVICES AND PIGGYBACKING ON LTAS

Ongoing collaborations

To reduce parallel processes and transaction costs, UNICEF shares its LTAs with other United Nations agencies, and similarly uses other agencies' contracts – e.g. UNFPA, UNFPA, UN Secretariat, UNHCR, UNDP, WFP and UNPD – for goods and services, such as IEC Telecoms-satellite, Danimax-VHF/UHF radio equipment, textiles and visibility items and Lynda.com, as well as Core Relief items, including tarpaulin, sleeping mats, blankets, kitchen sets, multipurpose storage units and prefabs, anti-blast film for windows at structures, defense wall gabions, armoured vehicles and spare parts.

United Nations agencies utilized UNICEF contracts for the following goods and services: laboratory services, inspection services, office stationery and furniture, flak jackets and helmets and lightweight multipurpose tents.

Logistics solutions

UNICEF undertook significant efforts with industry to connect and mobilize logistics solutions to overcome constraints on global supply chains and freight industries caused by the COVID-19 pandemic. Those included multi-stop charter flights, dedicated charters and partnerships, convening the logistics industry for a landmark discussion to start preparations for the transport of COVID-19 vaccines and launching the UNICEF Humanitarian Airfreight Initiative with the support of the International Air Transport Association (IATA) (see page 28).

UNICEF also shared its freight forwarding agreements with over 10 United Nations agencies and has been actively supporting the supply chain control tower, coordinated by WHO and WFP as part of the global COVID-19 response.

UNICEF-LED TENDERS

Joint global tender for personal protective equipment

As the United Nations' largest procurer of goods and services, UNICEF led collecting forecasting, convening industry to 'message as one' and issuance of a joint global tender to meet the urgent demand for quality and affordable personal protective equipment (PPE) in which 11 United Nations agencies and 2 international NGOs participated, complementing the emergency response efforts already in progress. In addition to UNICEF, the following United Nations agencies and NGOs participated in the joint tender: IAEA, IFRC, IOM, MSF, PAHO, UNDP, UNFPA, UNHCR, UNOPS, UNPD, UNRWA and WHO. This resulted in 15 long-term arrangements (LTAs) (see page 20).

Global tender for COVID-19 diagnostics

As a global leader in procuring, distributing and programming for disease diagnostics, UNICEF urgently acted at the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic, launching a dynamic tender process on 23 March 2020. The tender was designed to capture all types of novel COVID-19 diagnostics, providing an opportunity to manufacturers with novel products to become eligible for UNICEF procurement upon acquiring approvals from the United States Food and Drug Administration and WHO, or from other stringent regulatory bodies as per the UNICEF quality-assurance guideline. UNICEF collaborated with the United States Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) to accelerate the technical evaluation. With CDC's support, UNICEF in short order finalized evaluations of 35 submissions and awarded contracts to 11 manufacturers with reliable COVID-19 diagnostics, which became available for global procurement through UNICEF supply arrangements. These arrangements became an important supply solution for the global partners and effectively supplemented the work of the WHO-led COVID-19 Diagnostics Consortium to provide reliable and affordable COVID-19 diagnostics to low- and middle-income countries (see page 24).

JOINT TENDERS

Uterotonics tender

UNICEF and UNFPA jointly launched the first ever joint tender on pharmaceutical products for the prevention and treatment of eclampsia, prevention and treatment of post-partum hemorrhage and augmentation of labour, which resulted in the expansion of the product portfolio and establishment of longer duration LTAs for both agencies.

Menstrual Hygiene product specifications

UNFPA, UNHCR and UNICEF collaborated technically to jointly update Menstrual Hygiene product specifications for reusable and disposable menstrual pads and developed new specifications for reusable menstrual cups, to increase the range of products available to girls and women.

Non-pneumatic Anti-shock Garment

The Non-pneumatic Anti-shock Garment (NASG) is a first-aid compression device with a proven ability to reduce maternal mortality, developed using technology from NASA. The garment reduces blood loss in women experiencing post-partum hemorrhage stabilizing them until treatment is available. UNICEF collaborated with UNFPA in the procurement of NASGs, including piggybacking on their LTA documentation to save time and optimize resources. The life-saving product is being introduced by UNICEF in nine countries and is available for procurement through the UNICEF Supply Catalogue.

Partnerships

UNICEF is committed to accelerating the rights of children through access to life-saving, essential supplies through supply and logistics. This can only be achieved in cooperation with governments, donors, partners and other humanitarian and development organizations, and with the expertise and know-how of academia, businesses and civil society.

This list includes UNICEF Supply Division's key partners in 2020.
